It has always been a dream of mine to direct a play that included a dinosaur, a wooly mammoth, the invention of the wheel, and a fourth wall broken beyond repair. Of all of the plays that fit this description, it’s hard to argue that any could surpass Thornton Wilder’s The Skin of Our Teeth.

Winner of the 1943 Pulitzer Prize for drama, this play is remarkable for laughing in the face of theatrical convention and itself. Wilder’s willingness to play with the absurd and let his own characters mock him sets up a powerful allegory that catches the audience (and sometimes the actors and directors) completely by surprise.

Thank you for joining The Village Playhouse as we explore the wit and wisdom, the allegory and absurdity of Thornton Wilder. As George Antrobus would likely say, the watchword for this play is enjoy yourselves.

Now on with the show!

Joyce Sponcia (Mrs. Maggie Antrobus) is thrilled to perform with Village Playhouse for the first time. She has previously been seen in area theatres in Rabbit Hole, A Murder is Announced, Inherit the Wind, and Dearly Departed. She would like to thank this cast, crew, and especially David Kaye for such a hilarious journey through the ages. Thanks and love to her husband, Jack, the best line coach ever!

Scott Stenstrup (Miss M Muse/Fortune Teller) is excited to be in his second show with the Village Playhouse. Some of Scott’s favorite roles include Orin Scrivello in Little Shop of Horrors (West Tap), Duncan Wooley in Leading Ladies (Patio Players), and Jacob Marley in A Christmas Carol (Lake Country and West Bend). Thanks to the tremendous cast and crew for all their love and support. Scott would normally thank his family and friends at this point for their unwavering support; unfortunately, he has been so involved in community theatre he forgot who they are. He thanks you, the audience, for without you and your support, he (and countless others) could not do this thing we love.

Jordyn Stewart (Gladys Antrobus) has recently been seen performing in Waukesha Civic Theatre’s Almost, Maine, Old World Wisconsin’s An Old World Christmas and Legends and Lore, and in SummerStage’s Picnic. She would like to thank David Kaye for this opportunity and her family and friends for their everlasting support.

Robert A. Zimmerman (Mr. George Antrobus) returns to the Village Playhouse for his second “George” after playing George Hay in Moon Over Buffalo. His theatre experience includes writing, directing, set design and performing. Favorite roles include Max Bialystock, Tevye, Scrooge, Oberon, Fagin, Sherlock Holmes and Harold Hill. Bob dedicates this performance to his bladder-extended dog who endured so many late rehearsal nights.
Peter Kao (Telegraph Boy/Homer/Girls/Mr. Tremayne) has performed with many theater companies throughout Milwaukee and Madison. He recently played Old Joe in A Christmas Carol at Sunset Playhouse. Other credits include Evelyn in Anything Goes, Ching Ho and Bun Foo in two separate productions of Thoroughly Modern Millie, and Tim in Noises Off.

David Kaye (Director) has worked in the Milwaukee theatre community for 15 years as director, actor, and musician. He currently holds the Guinness Record for world’s tallest mattress stack and he once had a beer with John Gurda. This should tell you all you need to know about him.

Nikki Maritch (Costume Designer) is delighted to be working with Village Playhouse again. She previously designed The 39 Steps and Cat on a Hot Tin Roof. Her work has been seen at Quasimondo Physical Theatre, Green Bay Community Theatre, Waukesha Civic, and Racine Theatre Guild. She is a proud alumna of UWM’s PTTP. Love and thanks to her goofball and parents.

Donna Mc Master (Dinosaur/Miss E Muse/Bingo Caller/Hester) has been active in community theater for more than 30 years, mostly as an actor, director, and playwright. She performed in the Village Playhouse’s 2014 Christmas Show. Favorite roles include Anne Sullivan in The Miracle Worker, Nora in A Doll’s House, and the Cook in Madam’s Been Murdered, Tea Will Be Late.

Paul Pfannenstiel (Announcer/Broadcast Official) is happy to be back at Village Playhouse having recently been seen here in A Midsummer Night’s Dream. He has also been in All in the Timing, The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, as well as several of the One Act Festivals. He has appeared with a number of other theatre groups in the area.

Scott Sorensen (Henry) is thrilled to be on the Village Playhouse stage again. "This is a great place to work; the space is

Meet the Players

Nicole Allee (Stage Manager) has worked for a year in the Milwaukee area with various theatre companies. This is the 5th show in a row she has worked with David Kaye and she is looking forward to a break. She’d like to thank Rygel for his continues love and support.

Jessie Barr (Ms. Fitzgerald) has been trying to be the center of attention from the moment she was born. Her family became so used to her, she had to go to the theater. She has worked on shows with Stage Left, the It Gets Better Project, and Village Playhouse, including an award-winning role in Actor’s Nightmare. She is so excited to be a part of The Skin of Our Teeth, playing another stage manager. She would like to thank her friends and family who always support her attention seeking ways.

Alexis Fielek (Sabina) has directed several productions in the Milwaukee area, including the original play by local author Sabley Sabin, everyone’s stories are true. She is thrilled to be on stage this time, especially in such a delightfully weird and insightful play, with this talented cast and crew. She gives her love and thanks to the family and friends who have supported her in taking this step.

Elizabeth Havican (Doctor/Conveeners/Ivy) is just happy to be on stage again. Last seen in front of the curtain in the Village Playhouse One Act Festival last June, Elizabeth has spent the last several months stage managing and teaching herself lighting design. Elizabeth lives in West Allis with her husband, Patrick, and their cats, Deadly and Windom Earle.

Nicholas Hightdudis (Wooly Mammoth/Moses/The Chair Pusher/Mr. Bailey) is happy to once again be performing at Inspiration Studios. He has performed in several shows with the Village Playhouse, such as the One-Act Festival, and Number the Stars with Milwaukee Youth Theater. He enjoys playing drums, video games, and walking dogs for the Humane Society.
